

CONSTANTINOPLE AT MERCY OF THE BULGARIAN ARMY

One of the Shortest and Most Remarkable Wars Upon Record Is Now Fast Drawing To A Close.

TURKISH ARMY OF 200,000 IS DEFEATED AND RETREATING

The Downfall of the Ottoman Empire Is Largely Due To The Skilful Strategy of Bulgarian General Savoff.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—Series news has been received from the front. The council of ministers is still sitting at the Porte. It is believed the ministers are discussing the question of concluding peace with the Balkan states.

London, Nov. 1.—The Serbian foreign minister and the Greek premier, who brought about the Balkan alliance, started from Vienna for Paris today, it is reported, to negotiate with Premier Poincaré. It is understood that the Bulgarian army is following up its successes by an advance on Constantinople.

Vienna, Oct. 31.—The powers are likely to take action today in the direction of peace according to a report current here this morning.

London, Oct. 31.—Nasim Pasha, the Turkish minister of war and commander in chief in Thrace, has been either shot or taken prisoner, according to a despatch from Sofia to the Post.

London, Nov. 1.—According to a despatch to the Daily Mail, there is a feeling of great anxiety at Vienna and it is believed that Europe's task, confronted by four victorious armies on Turkish soil, is an extremely dangerous one.

London, Oct. 31.—A four days' battle in Thrace has ended in triumph for Bulgaria, whose commander whose skilful strategy has probably brought to a close one of the shortest and most remarkable wars on record.

A great Turkish army, estimated at over 200,000 men, has been defeated and is retreating. Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarian army, and a council sitting at the Porte is discussing the advisability of suing for peace.

It is only a fortnight since Turkey declared war. The first week of the campaign closed with the dramatic fall of Kirk-Kilis, fully revealing for the first time the disorganized, bad morale and inefficient commissariat of the Turkish army. Today that army is defeated, routed within fifty miles of Constantinople and possibly its retreat within the capital's line of defense is out.

Only the briefest and vaguest accounts of the great battle have been received, for the war has been especially remarkable in that not a single war correspondent has been allowed at the front except in the case of the little Montenegrin campaign against Scutari.

Thus no independent personal narratives of the absorbing events have been possible and the world has had to depend on biased official accounts provided by the respective governments or on confused details supplied by wounded soldiers.

Turks Out-Manoeuvred.—Apparently Nasim Pasha has been out-manoeuvred by Savoff. The Bulgarian turning movement along the Black Sea coast now appears to have been a feint, which lured the Turkish army to the eastward to such effect that the Bulgarian force on this side had the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check.

In the past few days it seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave way and thus enabled Nasim Pasha to retreat to Constantinople some success in this direction.

In the meantime, however, General Savoff had his great strength concentrated at Kirk-Kilis, where he crushed in at Lake Hissar.

The fighting along the whole front, which evidently been of the most stubborn and determined character, was continued on day after day without intermission and both sides lost very heavily.

Expect Capture of Headquarters.—The capture of Nasim Pasha's headquarters at Kirk-Kilis, to which the defeated Turks retired, has been the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check.

In the past few days it seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave way and

SOUTH SIDE BUILDINGS $1,904,365 FOR 1912

With Two Months More To Add Than Any Other Month $200,000 In Twelve Months of Amalgamation Year.

With two months yet to hear from the building permits for 1912 for the south side now total $1,904,365. The permits for November and December should easily bring the total for Amalgamation year up to and past the $2,000,000 mark.

Permits issued to date there are about 170 since Jan. 1. Without these adding, but from an estimate of the total value of the permits, it is safe to estimate about 700 permits. Of these 700 permits probably 400 permits are for residences of a value from $1,000 to $15,000.

All these new home buildings this year on the south side make a certain increase of population for houses to rent are all well across an ever and with even $50 per house and even three people it will mean $3,000 increase.

A large number of these new homes are already finished and that accounts for the continued increase in the overcrowding of the street cars. These houses are not all finished yet. The new families have not yet all moved in so the street railway department have not yet reached the climax of the overcrowding.

Another feature of the building permits is that the total of the building permits for next year will likely have a higher average value for each permit than this year. The increase in population will warrant larger and better business blocks in the business section and these solid brick or concrete buildings will add considerably to the total value of the permits for 1913. Better business blocks and larger stores are bound to follow as the result of the development of the south side.

New Bridges.
The completion of the high level bridge and the east end bridge will also affect the permits for next year and still further develop an increase in population during 1913.

The double railway facilities of both C. N. R. and C. P. R. will likely draw new industries to the Industrial Side on the south side and to transform the vacant land into places for busy factory employes.

The latest building of permits:
Last Nov. Childs, lot 8, blk. 4, R. 12, dwelling, $1,000.
W. L. Lawler, lot 25, blk. 179, Garment, $1,000, and garage, $500.
C. O. Howe, lot 24, blk. 18, R. 12, dwelling, $5,000.

Goldwin Smith's Autograph Album.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Justice Riddell decided today that Captain Fraser Hume Dixon, of Winnipeg, might prove his right of possession to the valuable autograph album of the late Dr. Goldwin Smith, which contains the signatures of many nineteenth century celebrities. Captain Dixon claims that the book came to him under the will of his father, Dr. Goldwin Smith, but Mr. Smith, in his will left it to the Toronto Art museum.

South Side Office 24 Whyte Ave. E. Phone 3413.

SOUTH SIDE POLICE COURT.

Robert Ritchie, J. P., acted as police magistrate in the south side police court on Thursday morning. John A. Scott and James Devine were each fined $4 and lost costs on charge of being drunk.

PAVING BY LAMPLIGHT.

The Municipal committee are working overtime and by lamplight to complete their paving on the South side. The cement strata laid for the foundation has been covered by the paving machine to protect it from the frost till it was mature. The ten days of the pavement is laid out and pulled by a steam roller.

STAND BACK FROM TRAINS.

An accident which happened to a C. P. R. employee who stood too close to a passing train should prove warning to others to give a passing train plenty of room. The workman was struck in the face by a projection from one of the passing freight cars. He was brought to Edmonton on a passenger train and taken to the south side hospital.

STONE CAR OBSTRUCTED VARIOUS.

Some time ago a defacement of the city authorities and the police visited the C. P. R. officials in regard to congested freight conditions and received the reply that part of the trouble was caused by cars not being unloaded upon arrival because demurrage was too low. But at the following week an example was given by C. P. R. officials there is a possibility of the same more properly belonging upon the C. P. R. and not upon those who pay demurrage. This case has demurrage paid by the C. P. R. A car of stone for the new Commercial hotel, Whyte avenue, was shipped from Indiana on October 2nd and left Winnipeg on October 2nd to arrive at the station called by the C. P. R. as Strathcona. It is reported to have arrived at Edmonton on October 23rd.

After further enquiries James Watson, C. N. R. agent, on the north side of the river on October 23rd, and yesterday, October 24th, it was loaded back to the yards on the South side of the station called by the C. P. R. by the name of Strathcona. It is said that the car was originally addressed to the station called by the C. P. R. as Strathcona. This it would appear that for ten days this car was obstructing the overland road on the north side, and north side citizens were perhaps understanding the measure of the man who preferred to pay demurrage rather than unload the car so others could be unloaded. During the same period, the contractors on the south side were delayed in the completion of the front of their block at a critical period of the building season.

Vancouver Volunteers Associated.

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—In view of the possibility of a conflict in Europe, members of the volunteer militia in Vancouver have in the past few days been quietly approached with a view to ascertaining whether or not they are ready to go out to fight. The case of the men has been carried out in the quietest manner possible, quite in the same manner in which it was done at the calling of the colonial forces together at the time of the Boer war.

CUNNINGHAM INQUEST.

The jury were empaneled J. W. Thain (foreman), P. J. Crowe, L. Brown, W. S. Reynolds, H. J. Crawford and H. Ward, to enquire into the cause of the death of John Cunningham, a car repairer, who was killed in the C.P.R. yards, south side, on Tuesday afternoon. The jury, after being sworn reviewed the case and then returned to the courtroom.

The following verdict was returned: That John Cunningham came to his death accidentally by being crushed between two cars in the Canadian Pacific yards, Edmonton, South, and that no evidence was shown whereby blame could be placed on the car person or person, the deceased having apparently been under the influence of any one.

The coroner and one of the jury men, coming and went to the scene without first notifying the coroner. The coroner said the scene in this case had been in good part, but he issued a warning to the jury in case of accidents of a fatal nature that it was customary not to move the dead body until a coroner had an opportunity to view the scene and to thus better judge the cause of death.

One of the C.P.R. officials explained that no doctor had arrived on the scene to pronounce the body dead and the intention was to get the body to a doctor.

Understand that the body under instructions from the coroner in this case had been called. The under taken saw the coroner on the way and considered under the law a police officer.

The evidence showed that two bad order cars were on the track known as the west head and a third bad order car had been shot along this track. Switchman Egan climbed on to the moving car, and by using the break guided it till it coupled to one of the bad order cars. He then got down and walked back. The engine and crew, in the meanwhile, had returned along another track, and switchman Cory noticed the man Cunningham jammed between the two bad order cars on the west head track. Alarm was given and the men hurried to the rescue. The car was moved and the body of the dying man was caught before it could get away. The police were sent when the first call was made for the ambulance and doctor, but several witnesses testified that death had come before the arrival of the ambulance. The C.P.R. contended that they had not been notified until after the necessary information.

Father's Illnesses Road.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Rev. Alonzo Blakely, of the congregation of Passabiot, died at St. Mary's monastery this afternoon. Father Blakely was at one time rector of the Passabiot monastery at Home, Italy, and since served several terms in the United States of America. He was born in Pittsburg, Pa., seventy-five years ago.

Great Britain Sends Warship.

London, Oct. 30.—Great Britain is expressed in regard to the Christian population of Constantinople, Balkan and other Turkish provinces. The news of the Turkish defeat is being circulated in spite of the censorship and the British government has ordered warship to be sent to the Dardanelles for the protection of British lives and property there and the action of the British powers in the matter is under consideration.

GREEK ARMIES CARRYING EVERYTHING BEFORE THEM

Athens, Oct. 31.—Entry of the victorious Greek army into Veria was accompanied, according to the dispatches received from the city, by the cheering of the population. A proclamation issued by the Greek Government assured the inhabitants, irrespective of race or religion, of the full protection and equality before the law. The Municipal committee of Veria, in the absence of the Greek army, had taken the necessary steps to organize the reception party organized for the Greek army.

PETER I., KING OF SERBIA

Need Have No Fear.

"We need fear nothing," replied the prince. "We have the law on our side for all, high and low. Christ is our protector and our savior. Therefore the denunciation, on behalf of the Montenegrin army, is not only in the new regime and obedient to the law, but also in the law of God."

Dispatches from various points show that the Montenegrin army is advancing rapidly and is making use of the law of God to the benefit of the Montenegrin army. The Montenegrin army is advancing rapidly and is making use of the law of God to the benefit of the Montenegrin army.

MR. FOSTER TO FLIT?

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, now in England, wants to go to Australia right away to talk trade. This sounds well, but it does not seem to go to Australia to talk trade in relation to trade with Australia, but he and his colleagues attained power by protesting against other things, that reciprocity would facilitate the entrance of Australian products to Canada. Months ago the Australian Government complained that they could get from Mr. Foster no satisfactory response to their efforts to open trade negotiations. More recently, Sir Geo. Reid, Australia's high commissioner in London, came to Canada to talk trade matters with Mr. Foster, and left without seemingly getting much satisfaction. In view of these facts, Mr. Foster's claim that he is in a hurry to open trade negotiations with the Australians does not seem just in line with the run of things.

Not that he may not want to go to Australia or some other distant part of the world about this time. The naval question is due to arrive in Parliament next month, and Mr. Foster has a record on that question that will not be easily squared with the inaction of the Government of which he is a member. It was Mr. Foster who some years ago introduced a resolution in Parliament declaring that Canada should build a navy. The Laurier Government accepted the resolution and prepared to commence building the navy. The Borden Government threw away the tenders for the ships and dropped the project, and so far as evidence goes, did not intend to take it up again unless and until they are compelled to. It is understandable that both Mr. Foster and his colleagues might feel more comfortable if the Minister of Trade and Commerce could manage to be on the other side of creation when the apathy of the Government comes to be laid alongside the speech and resolution of Mr. Foster.

A BAD MAN'S POWER INCREASED

While the country is ringing with protests against the shameful tactics adopted by Mr. Rogers and Mr. Roblin to prevent free expression of opinion in the constituency of MacDonald, news comes from Ottawa that the chief investigator and superintendent general of the outrages has been transferred to a sphere where his talents will have even broader sway. Hon. Robert Rogers is now the Minister of Public Works. As this means that he is no longer Minister of the Interior, there is to be thankful for. But the menace involved in Mr. Rogers' securing control of the Public Works department is greater than the gain of his removal from the administration of Interior affairs. Mr. Borden may, may not, have known what Mr. Rogers' accession to the control of the Public Works department would mean. It is not pleasant to suppose the Premier to approve of such proceedings; but it is not easy to surmise him stupid enough to not suppose what the outcome will be. He that as it may, the significance of Mr. Rogers' shift is known to every reading man between the lakes and the mountains. It means that the manager of the election machine has also got his hand upon the thumb-screw, with which to extort funds from the contractors and dealers having business with the great spending department of the Government. This is the end that was done in MacDonald may be done in every constituency in Canada when the time comes. So far as circumstances will admit. Whether he did it through weakness or ignorance, Mr. Borden has loaded himself and his party with a new and vast responsibility in putting Hon. Robert Rogers into the shoes of Hon. F. D. Monk. What has hitherto been said by Conservative papers among others in condemnation of the political methods of Mr. Rogers will hereafter be held, and with reason, as chargeable against Mr. Borden. He knew what had been done in MacDonald, or should have, and knowing it has increased the power of the author for evil. Mr. Borden has hitherto been regarded even by his opponents as an honest though mistaken man. He has only himself to blame if the public on both sides of the political dividing line are hereafter less confident of his personal integrity.

INDISCRETION

Anything in the nature of military aid and comes from Lord Roberts must be accepted as from one of the foremost living authorities. And anything that comes from him in the way of advice on any public question must be accepted as from a man who has devoted a long life to fighting the enemies of Britain in many parts of the world. But because Lord Roberts is an authority on the handling of armies and the conduct of military operations it does not follow that he is an impartial judge of the observations, criticisms and aspirations of other peoples. Nor does the fact of his long and useful service to the Empire in the role of the warrior blind the British people to accept his views on matters of other than military nature without examination, or against the weight of apparent evidence. When Lord Roberts tells the people of Great Britain—as he is now telling them in a series of public addresses—that the German nation is deliberately preparing to make war upon Great Britain he is not merely venturing upon a subject concerning which he is not a subject authority, but a subject upon which his training is very likely to lead him into wrong rather than right opinions.

Just because he is a soldier, and an old soldier, Lord Roberts is prone to look at everything from the stand-point of the soldier, perhaps cannot look at it from any other stand-point. In every foreign power in view, a potential enemy of Great Britain, in every foreign army a weapon which may be turned against Britain, and in the strengthening of any foreign fleet or army, it is not strange that he should suspect a preparation for an attack upon the country which has so long been the business of his life to defend by force of arms. That in the course of a long life of conflict Lord Roberts should have got in the way of measuring every armed man wearing a uniform against British as an enemy of the law, is only as natural as the fact that a man's occupation fixes his viewpoint and shapes his method of judgment. It is therefore no discourtesy to the great general, and by no means an underestimation of his splendid services to the Empire, to say that he is not an authority of the highest qualification on the subject of which he is speaking. On this question the travelled Englishman who has seen and known the Germans, and learned their disposition toward his country, the British diplomatist who has spent his time studying the designs of the German government, and the British statesman who have met the statesmen of the Kaiser in conference upon matters of disagreement, are far better judges than a soldier whose life has been spent fighting black men and yellow men and white men on the far frontiers of the Empire. On all that pertains to the organization of the British people for defence by land Lord Roberts is an authority, but on the question of the aims of the German nation, or any other foreign nation, he is not only not the best authority but one whose view is very liable to be prejudiced and suspicious. And in any event it should be equivalent to a man of his years and experience that the methods he is using to arouse the British people are not the best. Arraigning a powerful nation as the aggressor, and the blood-minded conspirator is not a good way to keep them on terms of friendship, or to avoid what the aged Field Marshall apprehends. Nor is it necessary to do so in this case in order to forestall the design he suspects. The British people are from all appearances quite awake to the necessity of maintaining their defenses in a state of efficiency, and quite prepared to do so, without anyone scaring them into action by hurling insults at other powers. The British fleet, despite its critics, is the finest as well as the largest in the world. The best general Europe has produced in modern times has declared the invasion of Britain impracticable, at times when Britain's land forces were not better than they are to-day. British statesmanship has not played out, and is still capable of preserving an understanding with the other powers of Europe which is a most powerful argument for peace at Berlin. Last, but not by any means least, Britain's army and navy are headed men of the stamp and calibre of Lord Roberts, and with weapons so efficient in the hands of men so capable the British public may well be excused if they decline to get excited even when the little Canadian himself tells them there is a possible enemy in sight.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Discovers. Victoria Times.—The chief government minister said yesterday, "I have seen the public that counts, but what you tell them you are going to do, and what you tell them they have given them." We often wondered where Sir Richard McDermid learned his art, but the secret is out.

The Difference. Winnipeg Free Press.—Says the Montreal Financial Times: "If the C. P. R. is not permitted to sell its stock at its own price, the money will be raised by debentures, imposing on the traffic a fixed charge instead of a contingent one."

For a Fixed Charge. "For a fixed charge at 4 per cent. in place of a 'contingent charge' at a much higher rate."

Prefer Quies. Victoria Times.—"I wouldn't live in Toronto for a bonus," declared a Colborne street resident who has returned home. "If you mean being about or knifed, you are liable to be knocked by a street car or an automobile and killed or maimed. Everywhere you see an ambulance picking up a dead or injured person getting to be an awful place, Kingston is the place for me."

Increase Not Justified. Saskatoon Phoenix.—It will be a mistake if Hon. W. T. White cannot see his way clear to advise the government to keep the duty on port and cement at its present rate. That suspension of the full duty, which amounted to about 60 per cent. ad valorem has been of considerable benefit to the country, cannot be questioned in the face of the enormously increased imports from the United States.

Significant. Winnipeg Free Press.—The vote in the late election in the provincial constituency of Dufferin has been commented on by the Canadian Standard. It shows a majority of 25 for Mr. Morison. This can hardly be explained as a result of the personal attention which he gave to the campaign in the section of the constituency. In the last provincial election Mr. McDonald had a majority of 456 in Dufferin.

In Optimist. The Ladies' Home Journal.—We rejoice at the high prices of meat and poultry. May they ever rise higher and yet higher. For through other means will the much-needed truth that we eat too much meat be driven home so effectively to thousands of persons. The more food meat is placed before the moderate poor the better. The substitution of meat for vegetables as it is applied to every table; they are cheaper, and they are more health-giving and essential. Intelligent folk know this and the high meat prices give them no concern. Therefore may prices of meat go higher, say we.

Implement Duties. Winnipeg Free Press.—The London Free Press says agricultural implements can be made as cheaply in Canada as in the United States. To quote: "Take the case of the International Harvester company. The week for which the Winnipeg Free Press saw some to speak, is directly interested in the machinery, which is the company's manufacture. The Canadian branch of the company ships not only to the Canadian west, but also to foreign countries, in competition with the United States plant. It is a constant proof that already we can manufacture in Canada as cheaply as in the United States."

If this be so, why should not Canada accept the standing offer of free trade in agricultural implements which is to be found in the United States tariff?

It might be a good stroke of business for the London government to do this. But we doubt whether the London Free Press would support such a reduction in the tariff. It was stated in the manufacturing centres of the east. The London incident, that the reduction in the duty on agricultural implements provided for in the recently agreed-upon tariff, is the result of a fifteen per cent. level—most mean rule to the Canadian farmers.

SUBSTITUTE FOR POTATO.

Dutchmen to Eat in South in Place of Irish Potatoes.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The department of agriculture has ready for distribution through reports in congress, one thousand bushels of seed potatoes, the semi-tropical tuber which is expected to take the place of Irish potatoes in the southern states. This is the first season in which such a distribution will be made.

The new potato substitute, which has a hairy root and has been grown with much success in Florida, comes from Central and South America, and will grow in the moist, warm regions of the south, which are fatal to the Irish potato.

It can be boiled or baked or cooked in any other way a potato can be used. Some who have eaten the Dutchman say there is a suggestion of roasted chestnut about it, and others that it tastes as though a very slight addition of gravy had been made to a potato. Tests have shown that a crop of 400 to 450 bushels an acre can be raised.

Bodies of Two Victims Recovered. Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The bodies of Henry Keane and Edgar Guy Leese, missing Winnipeg men drowned during the storm in the Red river north of Selkirk Monday night, were found today. They were recovered today and brought into the city tonight. Keane was a 25-year-old man, a hockey player. He was 25 years of age and married. He was a member of the real estate brokerage firm of Keane, Dayton & Co. Leese was 18 years old, son of the superintendent of the exhibition grounds, and one of the finest specimens of young manhood in the city.

RECORD FOR CLEARINGS IS ESTABLISHED

Bank Clearings for October Greatest in History of the City.

INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR IS 75 PER CENT.

Figures Show Twenty-one Millions as Against Twelve Millions.

Bank clearings for the past month are the greatest in the history of the city, reaching, as they do, the total of $21,918,187. The total bank clearings for the two months of this year are $111,501,791. Bank clearings for October of last year were $12,412,284, so that the increase is over 75 per cent. ## SHERMAN'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Fifty senators and President and Cabinet Ministers Will Attend. Public Service From Dutch Reformed Church at Two O'clock.

Utica, N.Y., Oct. 31.—The funeral of Vice-President James S. Sherman will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in the Dutch Reformed Church, of which Mr. Sherman was a parishioner. In addition to the public funeral, it is possible that there may be a private service for the benefit of the members of the family. The wish for such a course has been expressed by some of the members of the household, who are said to be appearing at the public service as the church. The funeral service will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Louis Hollen, who was Mr. Sherman's pastor.

Sergeant-at-arms T. M. Randall has telegraphed that fifty members of the Senate will attend. The President's cabinet and many members of the House also are expected. The Senate will take charge of the Vice-President's funeral and bear the expense, as it does for a senator.

Flight on the White House of the Capital and Government buildings were at half mast today. The State Department prepared a proclamation, which the President approved, regarding mourning by executives and legislators of the United States abroad, for the death of Governor Sherman.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 31.—President Taft will leave Washington late tomorrow for Utica, to attend the funeral of Vice-President Sherman. The President will be accompanied by some of his aides and secretary. What cabinet officers will go had not been declared when the President began making his arrangements.

Fishery Season Extended. Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The season for whitefish, which expires tomorrow, has been extended by order of the fisheries department until November 15th, on the Great Lakes.

Farmers Are Holding Grain For More Favorable Market

Prices Offered for Wheat and Oats by Elevators Not Sufficiently Attractive to Induce Farmers to Sell—Threshing in This District About Half Completed.

About half the threshing in the Edmonton district has been done, according to inquiries made from the local elevators by a Bulletin representative yesterday.

The remainder of the work will probably be spread over the next few weeks, as it is proceeding slowly. A number of the threshers have already pulled in, because they do not care to leave to move their machines about on frozen ground nor to be working out in the cold weather. They declare that it does not pay them to operate late in the season, taking into consideration the short days that they then can work, the broken time owing to storms and the depreciation of machinery when moved on the hard ground.

The Quality Grain. Grain is moving slowly. There is a hesitation on the part of farmers to sell to the elevators at the present rather low prices. While the quality of the grain grown this year is far above last year's the farmers are not getting the benefit of it. Millers say that the grain is of just the right kind for milling and that the flour from this year's crop will be of a better quality than has been had for some time past.

Drop in Oats. There is a falling off in the price of oats. The October price at Winnipeg for oats stored at Port Arthur was 49 cents, while the November quotation is 24 cents. The local elevators in face of this sudden drop, are cautious in buying and are only paying 23 or 24 cents, which is their price after reckoning the freight to Port Arthur, amounting to about nine cents.

Prices for oats have been good in the Edmonton district for the past two or three years and farmers do not like to take less than 25 cents per bushel after the prices they have been used to, although even at that price oats still yield a better return per acre than wheat, selling at 70 cents.

Farmers Holding Grain. On account of the disinclination at the low prices many farmers are not ready to thresh at all, but are stacking their grain, with the intention of getting it threshed in the spring when they hope the market will be better. Most farmers who have stored accommodation and are not in a hurry to realize cash on their crop are minding their threshed grain, waiting for an improvement in price.

INSURED ARE DOING WELL. No Further Deaths as Result of the Streetsville Wreck. Toronto, Oct. 31.—All those who were injured in the Canadian Pacific wreck at Streetsville on Thursday night are progressing favorably. W. M. Sheward, who was not expected to live, is somewhat better today and is resting easier. Outside of injuries to the locomotive, wrecked engine and equipment there may be heavy damage claims from the thirty-eight victims of the disaster. While the injuries were reported, as well as the pulling stock and to interfere with the work.

It is likely that these claims for damages for personal injuries will not fall far short of $75,000. It is understood that the claims will be paid without any contest as to liability. Captain Wylie Dead. London, Oct. 31.—Capt. Wylie, for many years a popular Allan Line commander, is dead.
